OFFICE OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Friday - 29 March 1963

25X1   1. [ ] Talked again with Robert Smart, House Armed Services Committee staff, attempting to determine Chairman Vinson's thinking concerning introduction of our early retirement legislation. As Mr. Smart had indicated before, Mr. Vinson wishes to wait for what he believes would be a propitious time to have the legislation introduced. Mr. Smart indicated we should have no concern that this will delay things in the long run and assured me that this is very much on the Chairman's mind to introduce it at the proper time. The reference to no real delay stems from the fact that in accordance with schedules which have been in effect since the first of the year, the Committee will be unable to hold hearings on the legislation until at least the first of May.

25X1   2. [ ] Miss Sawislak in the office of Senator Proxmire apparently somehow reached [ ] in OCI asking for 25X1 complete demographic information in various categories [ ] 25X1
25X1 I told [ ] that we would be in touch with the Senator's office to advise that we would be unable to furnish this type of information.

25X1   4. [ ] Advised Mr. Russell Rourke, Administrative Assistant to Representative John R. Pillion, that the publication INFORM which he had inquired about is one that has been published for some years. Although we could not comment directly on this publication, publications of this type over the years have been found unreliable.
